Litigation Support Services

Litigation copying, imaging & coding, eDiscovery, and trial services are the core of New Jersey Legal's litigation support services. At New Jersey Legal, we realize that in litigation support, the outcome is only as good as the people, technology, and quality that go into each project. That is why New Jersey Legal hires the most qualified litigation support personnel, utilizes the most sophisticated technology, and takes a team approach on every project to ensure that rigorous quality control standards are met.

New Jersey Legal has experienced continued growth, year after year, since the 1994 opening of our first office in Mt. Laurel, New Jersey. During the past 12 months alone, we have serviced several thousand customers in more than 550 law firms and corporate legal departments. Our clients have come to expect consistent quality, reliable service, and timely communication.

Whether you are preparing for initial discovery or going to trial, New Jersey Legal approaches each litigation support project with experience and innovation. Using our litigation support best practices approach, we can review the special needs of your project and suggest cost-saving ideas by utilizing technology and proven litigation support solutions. If you are not already a New Jersey Legal client, we invite you to experience our quality, professional service and commitment to excellence on your next litigation support project.

eDiscovery (EDD)

Today, the majority of business documents are created and stored electronically. This electronic data is a critical source of evidence in litigation. New Jersey Legal has developed its own cost-effective processes to review large volumes of data. New Jersey Legal can also help you review files in their native format, eliminating the expense of converting the irrelevant data. Once the data has been reviewed, all relevant documents are converted into a standard image format, along with the associated metadata.

These are some of the services we offer to help you manage your eDiscovery projects:

- ◆ Metadata Extraction
- ◆ Text Extraction
- ◆ De-Duplication
- ◆ Native Review
- ◆ Conversion to TIFF or PDF
- ◆ Web-Based Repositories
- ◆ Image & Native File Conversion
- ◆ Email Files
 - Outlook (.pst)
 - Lotus Notes (.nsf)

Computer Forensics

"Although plenty of science is attributable to computer forensics, most successful investigators possess a nose for investigations and for solving puzzles..."
Chris L.T. Brown, Computer Evidence Collection and Preservation, 2006

Did you know that 95% of corporate data is created and stored electronically? Unlike paper evidence, computer evidence can exist in many forms. eDiscovery applies only to known or existing data, but New Jersey Legal's certified forensic professionals take eDiscovery to the next level. Using investigative experience and specialized software, our highly trained forensic team will uncover deleted or hidden evidence, prevent spoliation, and maintain a defensible chain of custody.

New Jersey Legal and its forensic team understand the legal process and especially how the amendments to the Federal Rules have affected eDiscovery. This translates to more admissible evidence, cost savings for your client, and—most importantly—the winning edge for your case.

Exhibit Boards & Electronic Courtroom Presentations

"Justice is blind; your jury isn't."

Ever heard those words before? At New Jersey Legal, we believe that, while discovery requires the best technology available, when it comes to getting your point across to a jury, nothing makes a stronger and more lasting impression than custom trial boards or multimedia presentations. Our trial boards can be full color, black and white, hinged, magnetic, and laminated. We also work with flip charts, dry erase, photographic enlargements, transparencies, and overlays. Take time to review our website to find a wide range of exhibit samples. In addition, New Jersey Legal can put your exhibits into Sanction or Trial Director for a full, digital presentation. Often, a combination of trial boards and digital presentation makes for an economic, but powerful, impression. We realize that needs may change as a case progresses. Strategy often necessitates a quick turnaround. That's why New Jersey Legal operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

New Jersey Legal offers a full suite of trial graphics and support services.
